FROM THE PRESIDENT

I want to express my appreciation to all of the members who attended the annual planning meeting on a Saturday morning in late January. We had a good turn out and it appeared to be a very productive time for all of the sections, round tables and committees. We got good reports back on the work which was accomplished during that Saturday morning. I think all of us can look forward to a very productive year with SCLA!

You are doing it! Our membership totals are higher at this time than at the same time last year. Special thanks to Oakley Coburn and the Membership Committee, but also to each of you who has carried the banner and are actively recruiting members. If we are to meet our goal of 1,000 members this year, and we are almost half way there now, it is up to all of us to be recruiters. Keep up the good work!

As many of you are aware, ALA provided $5,000 for hurricane relief to libraries in South Carolina and asked SCLA to determine the allocation of those funds. The Executive Committee voted to provide half of the funds to the Charleston school system for assistance to school libraries in McClellanville and the other half to the Charleston County Public Library for assistance to the public library branch in McClellanville. The feeling of the Executive Committee was that McClellanville may have the most difficult time recovering from the storm and libraries will become a more valuable resource for them in this recovery.

The Association will be issuing two publications this spring and summer. The first will be a new SCLA Handbook reflecting all of the changes approved at the last annual meeting. A copy will be distributed to every member. The second publication will be a new Membership Directory listing all members as of May 1, 1990. If you want to be included, but haven't joined or renewed your mem-

Hopefully you should be hearing of workshops to be sponsored by sections and round tables. These will be inexpensive opportunities for you to learn from your colleagues in the State. Plan to attend as many as possible.

Alkaline paper awareness campaign materials available

The Association for Library Collections & Technical Services (ALCTS) and the Public Information Office of the American Library Association (ALA) have prepared a brochure, posters and a bookmark to support a new, comprehensive public awareness campaign about book preservation.

The "Going, Going, Gone" brochure describes in detail the reasons millions of books in the nation's libraries are literally turning to dust: Paper made using certain types of wood pulp processes retains sizing, which becomes increasingly acidic over time. This acidity causes paper to become discolored and brittle. Once a brittle book disintegrates beyond readability, its contents may be lost forever. (The great majority of books considered endangered are not likely to be reprinted because they do not appeal to a large enough market.)

"Going, Going, Gone" notes that although research on ways to reverse the acidification or to preserve the information in already brittle books is underway, it is important to prevent the problem at the source -- by using alkaline (acid-free) paper. The brochure then suggests numerous ways people can help support book preservation and preventive book production efforts.

A series of three humorous 11" x 34" posters feature vanishing copies of "A Handful of Dust," "Gone With the Wind" and "Invisible Man" to encourage the public to ask their librarians how they can help prevent the deterioration of important print materials. The "Gone With the Wind" design also appears on a 2 3/4" x 6" bookmark.

The preservation campaign kit -- 100 pamphlets, three banners and 200 bookmarks -- is available for $28.00 from ALA Graphics, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611 (800-545-2433). All materials are also available separately: pamphlets, 100 for $20.00; banners, $3.00 each; bookmarks, 200 for $6.00. Please enclose payment with orders of less than $20.00.

For a single copy of the brochure, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to:

Hurricane Hugo's Damage to Libraries Assessed

Close to three million dollars counted so far . . .

Part 1.

Public and Academic Libraries

(prepared by the South Carolina State Library, October 30, 1989)

At the request of the Joint Legislative Committee on Cultural Affairs and the South Carolina Council for the Humanities, the South Carolina State Library surveyed the public and academic libraries in the twenty four counties declared disaster areas due to damage sustained as a result of Hurricane Hugo. The assessment included damage to facilities, equipment, and collections. Results show total damage costs sustained were $1,461,000 (does not include cost of facilities damage for Charleston County) and a loss of 27,230 books.

The following is a summary of the responses.

Public Libraries

Of the twenty four county libraries surveyed, thirteen reported damage ranging from severe flooding to minor roof and window damage.

A. Total estimated damage to facilities, equipment and collections: $860,467
(Does not include cost of facilities damage for Charleston County Library.)

B. Total estimated damage to facilities - $44,031

1. Charleston County Library -
McClellanville, Sullivan's Island, and

C. Total estimated damage to equipment -
$10,000

1. Orangeburg County Library - $10,000
Main Library - shelving damage

D. Total estimated damage to collections -
$806,436 (25,030 books)

1. Charleston County Library - $798,000
McClellanville Branch - 7,400 volumes
Sullivan's Island Branch - 10,700 volumes
West Ashley Branch - 6,400

2. Harvin Clarendon County Library -
$4,500
300 volumes in Main Library children's and reference collections
3. Florence County Library - $500
25 volumes in Main Library
4. Lee County Library - $3,436
205 volumes in Main Library

Academic Libraries

Of the twenty-seven academic and technical college libraries in the disaster stricken counties surveyed, seven reported damage. The most severe was sustained by Morris College and the Medical University of South Carolina.

- A. Total estimated damage to facilities, equipment and collections - $601,000
- B. Total estimated damage to facilities - $454,700
 1. Baptist College at Charleston - undetermined
Minor damage to windows

SCYP and NMRT to Sponsor Workshop at 1990 Convention

At the 1990 Convention, the Services for Children and Youth in Schools and Public Libraries Section and the New Members Round Table will jointly sponsor a workshop on "The Black Experience." Augusta Baker and Tom Feelings (storyteller and illustrator, respectively) will present a program to promote black literature and its heritage.

SCYPS and Public Services Sections are planning a Fall workshop on "Reference Resources." Participants will have a chance to share unique reference sources and questions. Speakers will be announced at a later date.

Chair, SCYPS*

SCLA Roundup

of Committees, Sections, and Round Tables

These reports have been condensed from reports submitted to the SCLA Secretary at the January Board meeting.

SECTIONS

Public Library

The Section is planning a pre-convention workshop on architecture (a. trends in architecture, 1950-2000; b. trends in library architecture, 1950-2000; c. trends in interior design, 1950-2000; and d. trends in library interior design, 1950-2000. The Section hopes to obtain Dick Riley for the annual Convention to speak on "The Library in the Political Process." This is subject to change.

Chair, Anthony Messineo

Public Services

The Section has met with representatives of the College & University Section and agreed to co-sponsor a program for the 1990 Convention. The Sections will have a joint meeting in March to decide topics and speakers for the Convention. Also, the Section agreed to co-sponsor a workshop with the College & University Section and another workshop with SCYPS.

Chair, Phillip Powell

Services for Children & Youth in Schools & Public Libraries (SCYPS)

At the 1989 convention Jane McGregor of the State Library asked for SCYPS' help in drawing up guidelines for children's librarians. The Section Chair was to meet in January with Pat Feehan of the College of Library and Information Science, USC, to discuss the proposed guidelines. Chair has asked Public Services Chair to co-sponsor a fall workshop. Chair has also asked NMRT Chair to consider a joint workshop for the 1990 convention (see page 6).

Chair, Karen E. Matheny

COMMITTEES

Awards

See article on page 19.

Chair, Norman Belk

Continuing Education

The Committee placed an announcement in the February News & Views (see page 15) and was going to mail information and forms concerning continuing education to all chairs. The Committee is considering doing a workshop on "Workshops" in 1991.

Chair, Jane Mason

Editorial

The Committee has discussed areas in need of improvement. The Editor would like to identify and publicize new librarians in the state and prospective members of SCLA, including school librarians. More information is needed about individual librarians and libraries in the state. The Editor needs to have someone in charge of soliciting advertising (see ad on page 17).

Chair, Myra Armistead

Legislative

The Committee wants to encourage SCLA to sponsor Pre-White House Conference activities. The Committee has discussed a possible workshop on local governments and libraries and a legislative column in News & Views which could include the ALA Counselor's report FRC's report, and state activities.

Chair, Jim Johnson

Library & Personnel Standards

The Committee discussed collecting actual copies of standards if the Board approves. A bibliography of this information should be disseminated to the USC Library School, in News & Views, and should be included in the SCLA Handbook. The Chair presented a motion on a minimum salary guide (see page 16).

Chair, Linda Allman

Planning

The Committee has reviewed the 1988-90 plan and discussed revisions, additions, and changes for the 1990-92 long-range plan.

Chair, Maureen Harris

Publicity

The Committee has discussed its plans for National Library Week, Intellectual Freedom, and the SCLA annual Convention. The Committee will complete and update its resource file on the media.

Newsmakers

Betty Callaham, Past President of SCLA, and Director of the South Carolina State Library since 1979, has announced that she will retire on June 1, 1990. Ms. Callaham has held a variety of positions with the State Library since 1961. Following is an excerpt from a statement concerning Ms. Callaham's retirement by Mr. George H. Seago, Jr., Chairman of the State Library Board:

During her career, Miss Callaham has been active in state, regional, and national professional organizations. She has served the South Carolina Library Association as Chairman of the Public Library Section, chairman of various committees, Federal Relations Coordinator, and most recently as Vice-President and President. She was SCLA Chapter Councilor to the American Library Association for four years. She represented the Southeastern Library Network on the OCLC Users Council for two terms and served on the SOLINET Board of Directors for four years, holding the office of Board Chairman in 1986-87. Miss Callaham has also held appointments in the Southeastern Library Association and on COSLA (the Chief Officers of State Library Agencies). She was coordinator for the South Carolina Governor's Conference on Public Libraries in 1965 and for the South Carolina White House Conference on Library and Information Services in 1979. She was recipient of the SCLA Intellectual Freedom Award in 1986 and was the South Carolina recipient of ALA's Outstanding Educator of the Year Award in 1987.

The State Library Board accepts with sincere regret the resignation of Ms. Betty Callaham who has served as Director since 1979.

Ms. Callaham's contributions in the areas of growth and automation have enriched the lives of the people of South Carolina. Her leadership has drawn the attention of librarians and public officials nationwide. Visitors from other countries have studied efficiencies and improved service as developed through her years as Director. She leaves a legacy that will inspire those who follow her. The Board and members of the staff will greatly miss her.

We extend our best wishes for continued success and happiness in all of her future endeavors.

Clannie Washington has been named as the part-time librarian at the Landmark Square Branch of the Richland County Public Library. She formerly served as a Branch Librarian at the Northeast Branch.

Michael Leonard, Public Services Manager at the Charleston County Library, has resigned. Leonard will take the position of Childrens' Librarian at the Lakeview Branch of the Chicago Public Library. Over the years he has developed a national reputation as a storyteller.

Dr. Barbara W. Jenkins, Dean, Library and Information Services, South Carolina State College, was recently elected to the Board of Directors of the SOLINET.

Lorrie Evans is the new Assistant Bibliographic Instruction Coordinator at the Clemson University Libraries. Evans worked formerly at Greenville Technical College Library as a Reference Librarian. She received her library degree from the University of Maryland.

Jean Wells is the new Documents Librarian at the Dacus Library, Winthrop College. Wells is a recent graduate of the College of Library and Information Science, USC.

Anne Fliotsos is the new Reference Librarian and Online Coordinator for the Dacus Library, Winthrop College. Fliotsos is a recent graduate of the College of Library and Information Science, USC.

Douglas Clore is the new Circulation Manager at the Richland County Public Library. Clore was formerly Director of the Cherokee County Library and received his library degree from the College of Library and Information Science, USC.

IS YOUR COLLECTION SECURE?

Archives and Special Collections Round Table to Sponsor Workshop

The Archives and Special Collections Round Table will hold its annual spring workshop "Is Your Collection Secure?" on Friday, April 27 at Davis College, University of South Carolina. The workshop will stress the necessity of security and will offer guidelines and suggestions on making collections of books and papers secure from theft, damage, and vandalism. Speakers will include:

- Linda Aaron
Special Collections, University of Georgia
Topic: recent thefts at the University of Georgia
- Sharon Bennett
Charleston Museum
Topic: museum practices and measures taken after hurricane Hugo
- James Cross
Clemson University
Topic: basic security for archives

In order to observe security measures in practice, participants will be given the opportunity to tour three major repositories:

- the South Caroliniana Library
- Special Collections of the Thomas Cooper Library
- the South Carolina Department of Archives and History

Tours will be hosted by Allan Stokes, Roger Mortimer, and Alexia Helsley.

The cost of the workshop is $12 for SCLA members, $15 for non-members. The registration fee includes lunch. Registration information will be mailed to Round-Table members in March. Others wishing to attend should call Dennis Taylor, Clemson University, tel. 656-3031 or Roland Bart, South Carolina Department of Archives and History, tel. 734-8577.

Photos Needed

As part of its 75th anniversary celebration, the South Carolina Library Association will publish a history of the Association. Roger Hux of Francis Marion College, who is writing the history, needs photographs to illustrate the publication. Anyone having significant photos is asked to send them as soon as possible to either Roger Hux at Francis Marion or to Betty Callaham at the State Library. Please date the pictures and identify individuals by name and office/position when possible. Photographs not used in the history will be placed in the SCLA archives. Unfortunately, it will not be possible to return the pictures.

Help for Those Planning Workshops and Other Continuing Education Activities

by Jane Mason

Planning Checklist and Other Helpful Publications

The Continuing Education Committee now has available to members a planning checklist for programs/workshops and publications such as ALA's Successful Workshop Planning and CLENE's Noteworthy Continuing Library Education in 1986, 1987, and 1988. The Committee has also instigated an evaluation form which sections, round tables, and users' groups are asked to complete following each continuing education activity. These evaluation forms will be maintained for use in providing information to interested members and for developing guidelines and training for members of the various divisions of SCLA.

Those members needing a continuing education planning checklist should check with their section chairs or Continuing Education Committee Chair Jane Mason at 250-8000, ext. 2320 (Greenville Tec.).

Workshop Coordination

The main thrust of the Continuing Education Committee's new charge, as approved in 1989, is endeavoring to assure quality in continuing education activities. The Committee now functions in an advisory and evaluative capacity in conjunction with SCLA continuing education activities.

All sections, round tables, and users' groups planning workshops or other activities are urged to check with SCLA Executive Secretary Drucie Reeves, who acts as a clearinghouse for such activities. In this way duplication and conflict can be avoided. Once the date has been established, notify Steve Johnson, Editor of News & Views, so that he can place it in the calendar of events.

This year the Continuing Education Committee is composed of the following members: Jane Mason, Greenville Technical College; Nancy Smith, Medical University of SC; Deana Astle, Clemson University; John Olsgaard, University of South Carolina; Bill Cooper, Laurens County Library; and Jackie Kinder, University of South Carolina.

ACTIONS TAKEN AT SCLA BOARD/BUSINESS MEETINGS

Executive Board Meeting December 15, 1989

1. Approved the allocation of $2,000 to the Charleston County Library for use at the McClellanville Branch and $2,000 to the Charleston County School District for use at the McClellanville School.
2. Authorized the printing of 1,000 copies of the SCLA history being written by Roger Hux, the cost of approximately $2,000 will be taken from the Reserve Fund.
3. Authorized the creation of the Resource Sharing Round table, based on the petition circulated at the Hilton Head Convention, and named Lisa Ridenour as acting Chair.
4. Adopted a 1990 budget of $49,540.

Executive Board Meeting January 20, 1990

1. Decided to publish and distribute during the summer a membership directory. To be included, an individual or institution must pay their dues by May 1, 1990.
2. A motion by the Library Personnel and Standards Committee to adopt as a minimum starting salary figure the entry level salary of the Public Library Section was deferred until the next Executive Board meeting.

NOTE: The following is the text of the recommendation by the Library and Personnel Standards Committee:

The Library and Personnel Standards Committee has examined the existing South Carolina salary minimums: school, academic, public, and state. Based on this examination the Committee recommends that the South Carolina Library Association adopt as a minimum starting salary figure the recommended entry-level salary of the South Carolina Public Libraries as published in the Standards for South Carolina Public Libraries (currently $22,000). This figure should be published and updated in American Libraries' "Regional Salary Guide."

National Library Legislative Day

National Library Legislative Day will take place in Washington, DC, on April 24, 1990. This marks the sixteenth year that state librarians and library supporters have called upon their congressional delegations to discuss the federal government's role in libraries and library related-matters. If anyone is interested in attending this year, please notify Jim Johnson, SCLA Federal Relations Coordinator, South Carolina State Library, P.O. Box 11469, Columbia, SC 29211; tel. 734-8666.

Roundup

March 30. The topic under discussion for the annual Convention was "GPO Outreach."

Chair, Steve Smith

Online Users

Plans for workshops include: (1) joint sponsorship with GODORT of a spring workshop, (2) Chem Abstracts workshops in May [see page 18], and (3) possible OCLC EPIC workshop--date not established. Because of the cost of the Chem Abstracts workshop it was decided to plan a regional workshop for North and South Carolina and Georgia. An announcement of the workshops will be placed in New & Views and in the North Carolina and Georgia state library publications. The Round Table would like to sponsor a speaker for the State Conference, but no firm decision has been reached.

Wanted:

Advertising Manager

We need someone who is willing to devote a little bit of their time each month calling or writing potential advertisers. This is a way you can help your state library association without getting deeply committed to running meetings, workshops, etc.

No experience necessary!

Please contact your friendly editor, Steve Johnson, by calling 656-5175 or writing to: Editor, News & Views, P.O. Box 1585, Clemson, SC 29633.

WANTED: PROBLEM SOLVER

Satanic Verses, latch-key children, preservation, and literacy are only a few of the issues you face in your library career. For the help you need in finding solutions, join ALA today.

You'll receive American Libraries, with over 100 monthly job listings, discounts on publications and graphics, reduced registration rates at ALA conferences, voting and committee privileges, and eligibility for ALA's insurance and credit card programs. ALA dues are very affordable—$38 for first-time members, renewing members $75, students $19, non-salaried or retired librarians $26, trustees and associates $34.

Chem Abstracts Training Sessions

The Online Users Round table would like to sponsor Chemical Abstracts training sessions, but your cooperation is needed. The vendor requires a guaranteed minimum dollar amount and a two-day stay before the workshops will be scheduled.

The workshop choices are:

A File Basics Workshop will show you how to:

- Find information online using command language, selection of search terms, operators to express relationships among search terms, shortcuts, and online help
- Review, evaluate, revise, and print results of your search
- Save final results for later use
- Find information on specific chemical substances
- Use substance names and molecular formulas to find CAS Registry Numbers
- Includes hands-on time

This is a one day workshop.

COST:

$210 per person

$105 per person for academic participants

File Search Techniques Workshop will teach you how:

- Substances are indexed in the CA file
- To search for references to specific compounds or classes of substances
- To search for references to nonspecific derivatives of compounds
- To identify Registry Numbers from CA file search results
- To do effective subject searches in the CA Basic Index
- To search the CA abstract text

This is a one-half day workshop

COST:

$160 per person

$ 80 for academic participants

Workshops will probably be held the week of May 14, 1990. If you are interested in either workshop, please complete the form below:

Search for Candidates of Two SCLA Awards Begins

It is our pleasure to announce the 1990 nomination processes for the Outstanding Librarian Award and for the Friend of Libraries Award. We have many deserving librarians and many deserving Friends of Libraries in South Carolina. In order to receive these awards, however, individuals or groups must first be nominated.

Therefore, please take this opportunity to read the purposes, eligibility requirements, and procedures described below. Then decide whether you know such a librarian or such a "Friend" and follow the nomination process. Help us to honor both a colleague whose work reflects the best our profession has to offer and a "Friend" whose contributions deserve recognition.

Thank you,
Norman Belk, Chair
The Awards Committee, 1990

Outstanding Librarian Award

Purpose

To recognize and honor a librarian who has initiated or developed an imaginative or creative program, service, or work of enduring value for the effective use of or increased interest in libraries or a particular library. Criteria may include significant professional writing, instrumental roles in building programs, promotion of the profession through teaching or influence, etc.

Eligibility

1. The recipient must be in active service and a member of the South Carolina Library Association.
2. The award will recognize contributions made within five years preceding January 1 of the award year.
3. The award will be given to a person who has served in any type of library - academic, public, school, or special.

Friend of Libraries Award

Purpose

To recognize a person's or organization's outstanding service to a library or libraries. This service should be that which has furthered the expansion of library service in South Carolina.

Eligibility

1. The award may be given to a person or an organization having been a "friend" to any type of library-academic, public, school, or special.
2. The service to a library on which the award is based must have occurred within the past five years preceding January 1 of the award year.
3. The contribution made by the person or the organization may include, but not be limited to, financial benevolence.

Procedures

1. Nominations must be made in writing to the Chairman of the Awards Committee.
2. The deadline for nominations is May 31, 1990.
3. The award will be presented at a general session of the annual conference, as specified by the Executive Board and the Awards Committee.

Nomination forms and other information concerning either of these awards may be obtained from:
